

I can't believe the FCC may allow special interest groups dictate what XM Radio can and cannot broadcast. I pay for XM Radio - mostly because local radio stinks. If a radio company can't be competitive for whatever reason, it should fold like all other businesses - not use the government to legislate away the competition.